

Twelve Indian Children Killed In Hospital Fire

WILLIAMS LAKE, B. C.—Flames touched off by two unexplained explosions leveled a hospital on the Anaham Indian reserve in British Columbia's wild Cariboo country Thursday night, snuffing out the lives of 12 children.

The children, one 8 and the others under 5 were members of the Anaham band of the Chilcotin Indians, who make their home on the Anaham reserve 60 miles west of here.

An undetermined number of persons, including the supervisor of the Roman Catholic hospital, were injured in the blaze, which flashed through the frame building at about 5:30 p.m.

The supervisor, Sister Mary of the Cross, 25, was burned severely on the hands and face when she tried to force her way into

Two Workmen Killed In Fire At Oil Refinery

LONG BEACH, Calif. —Flames from a series of explosions raged unchecked today through a refinery where rivers of burning oil and gasoline trapped and killed two workmen.

Torrents of blazing oil from a ruptured tank started a chain reaction Thursday in the 25-million-dollar Hancock Oil Co. refinery on Signal Hill.

Workers sprinted for their lives as 14 big tanks blew up one by one.

Four hundred patients were evacuated in ambulances from Long Beach General Hospital. Long Beach Air Force Base was evacuated. Planes were moved from runways adjacent to the refinery to other parts of the airport.

Doctor Discovers Cause Of Lump In The Throat

By RENNIE TAYLOR
A. P. Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO —A Yale doctor reported today that he has found what actually happens when during emotion you get a lump in your throat.

It's due to the stiffening of a ring-shaped muscle at the top of the esophagus and this muscle turns out to have a heretofore unrecognized connection with the emotions, he said.

Emotional lumps in the throat can be frequent and troublesome for some people, Dr. John A. Kirchner told the American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otolaryngological Society.

Dr. Kirchner, a Yale ear and throat specialist, received the Harris P. Mosher award for his discovery about the involuntary activities of this muscle. The award is conferred annually by the society for outstanding research in the field of ear, nose and throat.

Now that the emotional factor has come to light, medical science may be able to do something for people who get these lumps too often, Dr. Kirchner said. Some kind of tranquilizing drug may be the answer, he added.

Women get emotional lumps oftener than men. They come suddenly during emotions such as sorrow or frustration or during some thrilling experience. They do not last long ordinarily.

The muscle in question has a jawbreaking name—cricopharyngeus. Normally its job is to keep the gullet closed except during swallowing. It was long supposed to be only a voluntary muscle—operated at will for swallowing.

ly sent word to Pliulin that he was still ready to take over the government. But de Gaulle apparently was not immediately willing to mediate with the defiant French in Algeria to keep the Premier in office.

Leaders of the junta which seized control of the North African territory May 13 formally set up a 40-member All-Algeria Committee of Public Safety—in effect a revolutionary government. Its two chairmen were Paratroop Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu and Dr. Cherif Sidara, a Moslem politician who has cooperated with Paris and held a high office in the last French government.

The committee said it would stay in office until De Gaulle assumes power in Paris.

Solar Dwelling In Arizona Gets Large Price Tag

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. —Some days the sun doesn't shine and some days you can't make a dime. Sadly aware of this, the Association for Applied Solar Energy plans to sell its famed, but short-lived, solar house for $49,500.

The association has been beset by protests about commercial operations in a fashionable residential section and hemmed in by zoning ordinances.

The house went on display last month, billed as the nation's first solar-heated house and cooled home. It created a flurry of interest from scientists, architects and homebuilders.

But someone forgot to read the county zoning regulations. A county adjustment board recently ordered the association to stop charging 85 cents admission.

Tear down all advertising signs. End public tours of the house. Stop operating an adjacent parking lot for sightseers.

Deputy Sheriff's Kidnaping Brings Life Term For Man

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. —Rich is now rounding out his second year of a 10-year sentence for violation of the federal narcotics law. The kidnaping sentence after a jury found him guilty of participating in the kidnaping of Judge Albert V. Bryan yesterday, is to be served concurrently, the judge said.

This means the 33-year-old Bridgeport, Conn., native will be eligible to request parole in 15 years.

A motion for appeal will be filed with the court, his attorneys said.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Another Blow

IF YOU CAN imagine a good-sized English sports car orbiting the earth at heights up to 1,100 miles, you have a good notion what the Russians have done in dispatching Sputnik III. This 2,900-pound space vehicle should do more than correct for any fresh complacency that might have followed from our own success in launching three satellites. The fact is the new Soviet vehicle is carrying over 2,100 pounds of scientific instruments. Obviously the Russians are prepared for extensive research into outer space.

WE CANNOT entirely satisfy ourselves by referring to Russia's equipment as bulky and crude, while stressing that our own highly miniaturized instruments represent technical achievement of a high order. Some of our scientists say flatly that Sputnik III is outfitted to make several tests of the atmosphere and of radiation which America's spinning satellites cannot make. Nor is it exactly a total answer to Russia's accomplishment in firing this heavy device into space to say that we are concentrating our big rocket effort on long-range military missiles. The Soviet Union is presumed by many experts to be from months to perhaps two years ahead of us in the long-range rocket field.

ONCE AGAIN THE Russians have reminded us—and the world—that their stunning feat of late 1957, the launching of the first two Sputniks, was no freak. They are in this game to stay, and obviously they know how to play it. Our satellite launchings did not represent a quick reassertion of American technical and scientific superiority but simply a demonstration of our own staying power in a long drawn-out match of talent and resources. In this match Russia has just struck another offensive blow. The world will be watching the United States for its next stroke, knowing that the struggle for the conquest of space is inescapably bound up with the Kremlin's tireless battle for the conquest of the earth.

Keep Youth Fit

BY PROCLAMATION of the President, the week of June 1-7 has been designated as Youth Fitness Week. Technological advances of recent years have lessened the need for physical activity on the part of our young people, states the proclamation, with a consequent adverse effect on the health of our nation. Since June is end-of-school month, when millions of youngsters across the land will pour out into the summer sun (quite happily, for the most part) for a two or two-and-a-half-month hiatus, it is appropriate that this week be set aside as a time of planning on the part of parents and civic groups "to promote programs and activities which will better the mental, social, spiritual and physical fitness of the youth of America. . . . Summer belongs to the kids, as does the future of the nation. School may end in June, but education—of the body as well as the mind—does not. It's up to adults to make the vacation months something more than a loaf between school terms.

The Shorts Snippers

IN THE UNENDING fashion world war, the battle of the chemise has lately seized most of the headline space. This is understandable, for great matters are at issue when the statesmen of style decree that the form divine—and variants thereof—must be draped, altered, concealed, overwhelmed in elegant tents and sacks. The alarms from this battle front need not entirely distract attention, however, from the sniping and guerilla warfare still going on in the dwindling battle of the shorts—male shorts. This contest of giants has been under way for years. Many a good man with knobby knees has gone down to defeat under a hail of snickers. Many have fled to the haven of long pants. But hardly souls continue the fight. Shorts may yet be accepted in offices as well as at backyard dandelion digs.

A LOT OF THE busy lawn mowers who enriched their grass with fertilizer in April now wish they could find a way to impoverish it a little.

House Vote On Trade Bill Will Be Test

WASHINGTON—The first practical test of the government's attitude toward the ominous developments abroad, including the reception of Vice-President Richard M. Nixon in South America, will occur when the House votes soon on the reciprocal trade bill.

Despite the exceedingly hard-won recent knowledge as to how United States economic policies are affecting other nations, there is a genuine question about whether an effective trade bill can survive the onslaught of traditional protectionists in combination with more recent adherents to protectionism among the Southerners.

THERE IS NO question that there will be a reciprocal trade act of some nature passed. What is interesting is that protectionists want the act extended for the full five-year period the Administration has asked.

The gulf behind their position is that, unsure of their strength in the teeth of dramatic developments abroad, they want to load the bill with debilitating amendments which then could not be upset for a long period, no matter how much worse the economic situation might become.

It is an open confession of their real weakness, because up until now friends of reciprocal trade have had to fight hard for even two-year extensions of the policy.

AT STAKE IS whether the bill will be useful in stimulating U.S. foreign trade or whether, through limitations written in by Congress, it will become a device to limit access to American markets by foreign producers in many industries and in many countries.

Some of the parallels between present crisis conditions and those of the late '20s are already frightening to the long memories in the capital. The prospect of the Reciprocal Trade Act being turned into a sugar-coated Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act provides a new nightmare to their troubled nights. The tariff lobby, as the record shows, has been the most free-spending and aggressive lobby of the season.

The result is so much in doubt that it is, to use a term familiar to those who still remember the old Pearl White movie serials, a cliffhanger.

THE BILL'S first test came in the House Rules Committee yesterday. Despite the well-nourished reputation of the Rules Committee for conservatism, it is believed to be more friendly to an effective act than is the House membership generally.

IF THE BILL seems genuinely imperiled, its friends may resort to heroic methods. Rather than put the United States into a protectionist straitjacket for five years, they may try to scuttle all of the bill except the title and write in only a nine-month extension.

Then the issue could be taken to the country as a major issue of the campaign. With Northern and Western Democratic prospects looking up, a reciprocal trade bill might be much safer in the hands of the next Congress than in this one.

Nixon Gains Most From "Good Will" Trip

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The one who benefitted most from Vice President Richard M. Nixon's good-will mission to South America was probably Mr. Nixon himself.

True, parts of it were pretty rough going for the vice president and still worse for Mrs. Nixon. But they came home to heroic welcomes. And this ordeal may have clinched the Republican presidential nomination for Nixon in 1960.

The only upset would be a major Nixon blunder—which isn't likely. For the vice president has demonstrated an amazing ability to fall into political mud puddles and pick himself out of them dry-cleaned, sweet-smelling and smiling.

HE DID IT in his campaign for the Senate against Helen Gahagan Douglas in 1950. He did it again in 1952 after disclosure of his California expense fund contributions.

He did it in 1956 after Harold Stassen tried to sabotage Nixon's renomination for the vice presidency. And now he has done it again in South America, turning an insulting rout into a personal victory.

But when you get right down to cases, the amount of real direct benefit accruing to the United States from these good-will missions is questionable.

FIRST TWO immediate effects of the Nixon tour, on the day he returned to Washington, were that the Argentine slapped new restrictions on imports from the United States—to conserve its dollar exchange—and that Ecuador announced a two-man mission would come here to talk loans.

It is considered probable that most of the economic exchanges between the United States and the other Americas will be in this direction for the immediate future, at least.

Anyway, it is doubtful if the U. S. will be sending any more good-will missions to South America for some time.

Five years ago, just after his first inauguration, President Eisenhower sent his brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, on a free-week good-will tour of South America.

FOUR MONTHS later he filed a voluminous report, filled with understanding observations and major recommendations. Here is a brief rundown on the principal policies Dr. Milton Eisenhower proposed, with parenthetical comments on how his recommendations have (not) been carried out:

Adopt stable trade policies toward Latin America. (We still don't have them.)

Stockpile imperishable Latin-American exports when prices are low. (Prices are now low. We aren't stockpiling. There is some agitation for quotas on that.)

Study tax laws for incentives to U. S. private investment abroad. (Nothing at all done on that.)

Make public loans where private financing is not available. (Just getting started on that through the new Development Loan Fund, which will soon close its first deal, U. S. Export-Import Bank loans have been going on as usual.)

Expand technical aid programs. (There may have been a little, but not much.)

Expand cultural exchanges. (It's still going on about the same rate as before.)

Expand U. S. Information

Agency programs. (If anything, they've been cut back by last year's congressional economies.)

THIS IS AN over-simplified five-year record of Eisenhower administration policies toward Latin America. This administration took office dedicated to the principle it would "stop neglecting Latin America."

Vice President Nixon reaped the harvest on his trip. His report and new recommendations are being awaited here, with interest.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—There does not seem to be much point in creating a turbulence, but I have been putting around New York for several days looking into new things.

Things are anything which seem better than things we already have. The fact that they are better does not mean you can have them, no matter how ready your cash may be. But you could have them, if manufacturers and designers thought more of you than of profit.

Item: a tiny, lightweight British outboard motor, with a four-blade propeller. The heaviest weighs 37 pounds—dry. They are built as work motors, not flash and spin jobs. Their powerheads are geared down.

They will troll at about one mile per hour and then rev up to speed without stalling, spitting or muttering. They do not have one tricky gadget to get out of order. They are intended to move boats with people in them. They do. And they should never be taken apart or decarbonized, never pampered. They are designed to take neglect.

ITEM: an American steel manufacturer who has demonstrated that its lead-coated steel would create an automobile muffler that would last the life of the car—for exactly eight cents per muffler. As it is, the average muffler is replaced every two years at a cost of about $25.

For eight cents more on the cost of your car you could have a permanent muffler. Why doesn't it happen? The steel company says it can't get any takers for the product, although this special steel has been offered to muffler and auto makers. Not one taker.

ITEM: a battery almost as small as a paper book of matches which in Government electronic use has been the coldest and hottest battery in the world in the history of man. It is also the most shatter-proof. It is made in New York.

A man named Michel E. Yardley makes them. It was catapulted at 1,500 miles per hour from a launching device in Utah and never missed a beat. Col. John Slapp had one in the speed-sled he used when he raced at 632 mph and did a sudden stop. It kept right on working. It has gone up 100,000 feet in a balloon.

Joy Ride For The Monkey?

WASHINGTON—Our experts are working now on a satellite so big it almost made the appropriations committee gulp.

Its weight is a military secret, while how it looks depends on who's looking and where. Read the rest of this, taxpayers, on penalty of feeling dizzy:

Representative Daniel Flood said he'd like some idea of the size in comparison to the 40-foot hearing room in which the experts were sitting.

"It is a fairly good-sized object," said Dr. Herbert York, chief scientist of the Advanced Research Projects Agency of the Defense Department. "It sticks out some antennas. It does not look the same in space as it does on the ground. It changes shape after it gets up."

FLOOD demanded to know how long this monster will stay upstairs. Dr. York said that depends on how high it goes. At 200 miles it might stay in orbit a year; at 400 miles, several hundred years; at 600 miles, possibly millions of years.

The doctor said there'd be no man in it, but the specialists are working on that idea, too. He said they'd start first with monkeys, which fortunately are smaller than men; the problem isn't so much getting them up, but bringing them back alive. He and Roy W. Johnson, director of the agency, agreed that a chimpanzee could take the longest ride of all in the next 12 to 15 months.

"It does no good unless you can successfully bring it (the chimp) back," Johnson continued. "If the animal can be trained in advance to turn a switch, on command, and we have television evidence that the switch was turned, that will be evidence man, as well, can perform some useful functions in orbit."

I REGRET to report that the scientists didn't explain how they expected to command a chimpanzee to switch on the light when he's inside a shooting star, 500 miles high. Maybe they can talk to him soothingly, via radio.

Flood said even if the chimpanzee was dead when he got back to earth, that still would be of value.

"IT WOULD not have a very good psychological value," retorted Representative Edward T. Miller. Flood said yes, it would, too, while Representative W. F. Norrell wondered what scientific value a dead monkey would have.

"You are trying to find out why he died, of course," said Dr. York. "The main reason for bringing him back is to check out the system and make sure that it is possible to survive before you send men up."

The doctor said it was possible to send a man into the far distant blue within a year, but that the specialists had not yet decided to try it. (My own guess is that they might even have trouble finding a man.)

JOHNSON said he still wasn't sure the man could be brought home safely and until this detail is worked out there'll be no American humans in space.

"The Russians may try it," he said. "They may take risks of a safe return of a man ahead of their assurance that they can do it."

Dr. York said there were a dozen ways of bringing the satellite back to Earth without the friction of the atmosphere burning it to a cinder. Some of them involve the use of special wire-mesh parachutes.

HE SAID this or a similar satellite would be used for traveling around the moon, taking photographs as it went and developing them instantaneously. Then, he said, the resultant prints would be transmitted to Earth via television, thus giving us our first really good pictures of the moon. He said the odds for hitting the moon are 25 percent; of orbiting the moon, 50 percent; and of missing it altogether, 25 percent.

"What," demanded the awed Flood, "do you have in the fifth at Bowie?"

BANGKOK—Anything can happen among Bangkok's hundreds of green-topped canals and golden-spired Buddhist temples.

In this strangely exotic land of 22 million, including 250,000 monks, a military dictatorship has reigned almost continuously for 25 years with only a few face changes, primarily because it has been responsive to public opinion.

Despite the generally high cost of living, Thailand continues to be a favorite stop for foreigners. Almost 75,000 people visited Bangkok last year.

Airline and travel agents expect the influx to double or triple with the introduction of jet commercial airliners in 1960.

THE THAIS SO FAR have done little to prepare for the anticipated increase of visitors. There are only about half a dozen adequate hotels and they are usually full.

Bangkok is also a big center for diplomatic activity. Great Britain, the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Japan maintain large embassies here. Bangkok is the regional Asian headquarters for many U.N. organizations.

In Chinatown, gold shops do a thriving business in earrings, rings and bracelets, primarily because the Thais and Chinese still believe it is wiser to put their savings in gold than in banks.

Buying in Bangkok goes hand-in-hand with music appreciation. The Thais and Chinese believe there is nothing like good, loud music to lure the customers into their shops.

IF IT'S PRECIOUS stones you're looking for, you may have to wade through the first movement of Tchaikovsky's piano concerto blaring from the shop front.

But if you want ivory, leather goods manufactured from crocodile or snake skin, bronze or sterling, you may have to fight off a couple of choruses of "Get My Blue Suede Shoes."

Some slickly combed lad may sidle up and offer to be your guide for the day. More than likely he will want to introduce you to the brassy cabarets, the smoky opium dens—or perhaps if you haven't seen an unpurged copy of "Lady Chatterley's Lover" lately.

In Thailand, which literally means "Land of the Free," you can get anything—for a price.

WASHINGTON—The tourist season is opening, but many Americans are feverishly revising their holiday itineraries to bypass places they fear may be unfriendly. The number of regions that a sensitive citizen might hesitate to visit seems to be increasing daily. It is beginning to look as if the surest bet for an American who craves rest, relaxation, and assurance against anti-American demonstrations, is Moscow.

There are no unplanned, accidental, or spontaneous demonstrations in the Soviet Union. An American vacationist can ascertain if it's safe for him to visit Russia simply by reading Pravda and Izvestia. There will be no uprisings there unless they announce them.

Free countries can't give this sort of guarantee. The people are free to like or dislike Americans, when, and why, they choose. We know that in many areas this season is "when," but we're not so sure "why." We think of ourselves as friendly cusses, overflowing with the milk of human kindness, and it hurts and bewilders us when our goodwill is unrequited. It is making us very skittish about which countries to favor with our 1958 tourist business.

LONDON AND PARIS have long been prime favorites with American holiday-makers, but a lot of us feel wary about going to Paris. It's too full of Algerians. And we feel the same about Algeria. It's too full of Parisians. London, of course, is always a tourist hazard. It's too full of Englishmen.

It is tough for an American to have loose recession money jingling in his pockets and not able to make up his mind where to spend it. It is frustrating and stultifying. I know one would-be visitor to foreign lands who has become so stultified he is going to spend her vacation in Lebanon, Pa.

A lot of Americans who haven't read a book in years, and never on vacation, are skipping the other Lebanon this year because it has been burning libraries. If they detoured to Moscow they could sightsee for miles without smelling a burning book. We don't have any libraries in that community.

Let's I be suspected of trying to drum up tourist business for Russia, let me say I think holidaying would be pleasanter in Venezuela, even with Vice President Nixon as a traveling companion. In Caracas you could get to meet people who would come right out and say they were not Communists.

I WOULD GIVE Australia a wide miss because it is too far away and I hear the jackrabbits are anti-American. Japan is in the throes of an election. And I wouldn't care to be caught in downtown Tokyo, North Dakota, on election day.

I would detour around most of the Pacific, including its paradoxical atolls, because I'm not too confident that all our atomic nukes know what they're doing. I might think they were shooting a clean bomb at me and discover too late they were playing dirty.

It's too soon yet to vacation in outer space and I'd avoid Brussels this year because the Fair has sent prices rocketing out of this world. The place is jammed. Other cities may be losing population, but Brussels sprouts.

This year I would prefer to see America First, although I think I would skip Yellowstone Park. The bears would make me too nostalgic for the faraway places. They bite the hand that feeds them.

Five Elected As Directors Of Red Cross

A board of directors of the Allegany County Red Cross Chapter was elected at the annual meeting of the chapter last night in the Post Office Building.

Unanimously elected, according to C. M. Sanner, chapter chairman, were Mrs. Robert Gerson, Ralph Webster, Duard H. Little, Mrs. William H. Ryan, and Garland L. Johnston.

The meeting was opened with invocation by Rev. E. A. Godsey, pastor of First Methodist Church, Frostburg.

Sanner gave a review of the services of the Red Cross chapter during the past year and he spoke with regret at the loss of Mrs. Gilbert Miller, water safety chairman, who died last month.

The financial report shows total expenses of $36,344.46 for the year: (estimated for May and June): National's portion, $19,974.08; blood program, $5,475.32; ($3,936.80 paid Johnstown Regional); general administration, $4,500.74; home service administration, $4,176.26; home service, grants and loans, $857.14; volunteer services, $400.27; first aid, $332.15; disaster, $263.88.

Junior Red Cross, $179.01; water safety, $132.57 and nursing services, $53.04. In the 1958-59 County United Fund Drive the county chapter's total budget request was $37,676 and the present CUP allocation, $35,700, with some $19,276 paid to national headquarters.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a certificate and service pins. Mrs. Marietta Early, chairman of the Nursing Service, presented an instructor-trainer certificate for care of the sick and injured to Mrs. Raymond Boore.

Mr. Sanner presented a 40-year service pin to Mrs. Hammond Amick who in turn presented 15-year-service pins to Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, Mrs. Leola Middlecamp, Mrs. Josie Hartung, Mrs. Charles Callis, Mrs. D. J. Mahoney, Mrs. Franklin Kremer, Mrs. William Wolford, Mrs. Chester Ford, Mrs. Margaret Enlow and Mrs. Marguerite Findlay.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Olivier Divorce Report Nonsense

LONDON — (INS) — Actress Vivien Leigh described as "nonsense" today reports that her husband Sir Laurence Olivier has asked for a divorce.

Miss Leigh, who is acting in a London play, said she called Sir Laurence in Scotland last night to tell him of the reports.

He roared with laughter, she said, and was impressed that the rumors credited him with being involved with two women.

The "other women" are actresses Susan Strasberg and Joan Plowright. Both denied any romantic attachment with Sir Laurence.

WANTS "WATCHDOG" — A congressional watchdog subcommittee is needed to "ride herd" on the House Foreign Affairs Committee. So says its acting chairman, Thomas E. Morgan, above. Morgan says his committee will consider creation of the monitoring unit after the multibillion-dollar foreign aid bill clears Congress.

Outline Need For Railroad Legislation

B&O President Says Congress Should Correct Inequities

Howard E. Simpson, president of the B&O Railroad, last night urged the people to demand that Congress give the nation's railroads relief from handicaps sapping their strength.

Simpson said "if all the people are made aware of the grave dangers besetting the industry there will be a concrete demand for corrective legislation by Congress." His address was read last night at the annual convention of the B&O Veterans Employees Association underway here.

Simpson was scheduled to personally deliver the speech, copies of which have been sent to 25,000 persons, including the railroad's stockholders and others in public life.

But he was delayed in Washington where he testified Thursday before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce which is considering the legislation he urged in his speech. W. C. Baker, B&O vice president in charge of operations, read Simpson's speech to some 600 persons attending the convention banquet.

Using "The Playing Field" as his theme, Simpson urged railroads, stockholders and the public in general to get down out of the grandstands and into the game by writing their congressmen demanding corrective legislation.

"Much of our competition is provided with many facilities from public funds," Simpson said. "Ironically, the railroads contribute a substantial portion of those funds. In contrast, the railroads present one of America's great do-it-yourself examples. We buy our own, we build our own, we maintain our own, and we pay taxes on our own."

He said the railroads have been deprived of a fundamental right—the American right to compete, and the present policy of continuing to treat the railroads as monopolies is slowly but surely undermining their vitality.

He said all that is needed for better rail transportation service, regular employment and for a sound future is to apply exactly the same rules of regulation, the same rules of taxation, the same rules of self-support to each form of transportation, whether rail, highway, waterway or airway.

Simpson said the railroads are unable reasonably to compete due to "unfair and obsolete regulations. He said the loss in rail traffic is not a result of the current downturn in business but goes much deeper—"to the long-existing sharp and destructive inequality between the regulations to which the railroads are required to march and those to which their competitors are free to step along."

Simpson said the railroads are gratified that the Senate Subcommittee on Surface Transportation, headed by Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.), has recommended deferment of taxes, competitive rate making and repeal of the excise tax on transportation of passengers and measures.

He said the proposed legislation does not encompass all that the railroads need or asked for but he called it a step in the right direction.

Mothers of members of Circle 5 of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Central Methodist Church, were entertained with a party at the parsonage, 742 Fayette Street, a recent evening. Mrs. James Elliott and Mrs. John Pfeiffer were hostesses.

Mrs. Virgil Eackles conducted the devotional service on the theme "Family Week."

Mrs. Pfeiffer presented the program, "It Could Be You," a comedy of humorous events from the life of each mother. Other informal entertainment followed.

Each member presented her mother with a vase of flowers.

Honor guests were Mrs. Blake Buckel, Mrs. Walter Hartman, Mrs. E. F. Cunningham, Mrs. Bernard Hill, Mrs. L. M. Henry, Mrs. Mary Hennessy, and Mrs. L. B. Blume.

Members attending were Mrs. Joseph Harvey, Mrs. Ernest Spriggs, Mrs. Charlotte Northcraft, Mrs. Fred Weber, Mrs. David Paugh, Mrs. Robert Newman, Mrs. Jack Shriver, and Mrs. David Shelkey.

The circle will meet June 4, at the home of Mrs. Fred Weber, Wempe Drive.

Delegates Named To National Meet By Hairdressers

Delegates to the national convention of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists were named at the meeting Monday of the Allegany County Unit at Central Y.M.C.A. They are Ralph Smith, delegate, and Mrs. Eloise Ack and Mrs. Virginia Sunderlein Nave, alternates.

The convention will be held in New Orleans in July.

Mrs. Catherine Welton was appointed to the state nominating committee and the local group will invite the state group to meet in Cumberland in September.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. Nave, Centerville, Pa., August 10, for all members. A donation was voted to the cancer society; and announcement made that Mrs. Mamie Scott received fourth place trophy at the Interstate meeting of Hair Fashion, held in Philadelphia, recently, and that the University of Maryland School of Cosmetology opens July 7 with two, two-week courses of advanced training for all licensed beauticians.

The local Style Body was reorganized and new members admitted. It was voted to write to the state group requesting a demonstration of latest styles to be held at the Tri-State Beauty Academy. Officer reports were given and prayer offered.

Projects Planned By Opti-Mrs. Club

Prior to recessing for the summer, the Opti-Mrs. Club discussed a plan to finance transportation to the park this summer for children of Friends Aware, and to purchase a wheel chair for the infirmary.

Mrs. Raymond Kenney was named chairman of a picnic next month, and a dance was planned for October.

During the summer members will make lap robes for the patients at the infirmary.

Secret sisters were revealed at the social concluding the meeting. Refreshments were served.

Twin Crypts For Unknown Heroes Ready

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twin crypts, carved into the marble plaza of Arlington Cemetery's famous tomb, are ready to receive the bodies of the two unknown fighting men who died in America's two latest wars.

There on Decoration Day the nameless heroes of World War II and Korea will be entombed, their crypts each two paces from the resting place of World War I's Unknown Soldier.

A full-scale rehearsal Thursday for the May 30 ceremony included placing caskets over the open crypts.

The rehearsal also included the reading, for the first time, of the citations which will accompany the Medals of Honor for the two unknowns, to be conferred by President Eisenhower in the funeral ceremony preceding the burials.

The citations for awards of the nation's highest military decoration are both brief.

White wooden covers now protect the crypts, but after the burial next week they will be replaced with massive marble slabs.

ADVERTISEMENT $1,000,000 Idea Man

MR. F. SCHIAVONE

A big, $1,000,000 idea to help speed the return of prosperity has been announced by the Aetna Finance manager here.

Throughout America, he pointed out, people are being urged to "Buy Now" and help business. The Aetna Company has set aside $250,000 cash for the people of this area. Over $1,000,000 of increased business activity would result from getting this money into immediate circulation.

Residents here are invited to apply for amounts of $50 to $1500, then spend it for needed things or to pay bills. The money may be obtained on name only, the same day.

"We don't recommend needless borrowing," said the Aetna manager, "but very often it is a sensible way to get new things or a new, fresh start." Those interested are asked to phone or see Aetna Finance, 48 N. Centre St., PA 4-6800. (Loans over $500 made under Md. Industrial Finance Act.)

More Powerful Radar Set At National Airport

WASHINGTON (AP)—More powerful, new radar will be installed by next fall at National Airport, a probing government subcommittee was told yesterday.

This is one step the Civil Aeronautics Administration is taking to reduce the possibility of another air crash such as the two-plane collision Tuesday over Brunswick, Md.

James T. Pyle, head of the CAA, said the equipment would be installed at the control tower. Pyle said 15 to 30 seconds notice to the airliner involved in the mid-air smashup with a training jet would have given the pilot a chance to dodge the swift T33, he added.

He added that a broad program providing additional safeguards would be in effect within three to six months.

In other developments, David D. Thomas, director of CAA's Air

Traffic Control Office, said a radar observer was able to "see" the crash on his screen.

Thomas disclosed the Capital Viscount was actually under surveillance as the plane cruised at 8,000 feet, 45 miles northwest of Washington and en route to Friendship Airport near Baltimore.

The whereabouts of the T33 were unknown to the control tower, since the CAA does not ordinarily keep track of military aircraft. It was too small, anyway, to be spotted by the present radar screen, Thomas said.

Lt. Col. Edwin Warfield, staff chief of the Maryland Air National Guard whose T33 trainer collided with the Capital Airlines plane, refused to blame the military craft at present for the crash.

Meantime, the only survivor, pilot Julius McCoy who was at controls of the trainer, remained in a Baltimore hospital "in a definite state of shock" with a 104 degree temperature yesterday.

Plant To Resume Work Following Strike

FRANKLIN, Pa. (AP)—Production will resume Monday at the Joy Manufacturing Co. plant here following settlement of a strike of some 750 machinists.

Members of Machinists' Local 1842 voted Thursday to accept a new contract calling for an immediate seven-cent hourly wage increase and four cents more in October. Wage scales were not disclosed. The strike began April 15.

138,000 Volt Charge Hits Four Workers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Four men were recovering today from burns they received when a 138,000-volt charge jumped from a transmission line to a steel beam they were loading on a truck.

William M. Hindman Jr., 24, Charles O'Brien, 29, and Robert Kirby, 36, were admitted to Lutheran Hospital yesterday with burns on the hands, arms, legs and feet. The fourth man, Louis Principio, 32, was treated and released.

Hindman said he saw a blue flash as the electricity from the Pennsylvania railroad power line, shot down a crane and through the beam.

In another accident at Joppa in Harford County late yesterday, Kenneth I. Day, 25, a service station operator, was sprayed by blazing liquid after a 50-gallon drum of anti-freeze exploded.

Day was admitted to Harford Memorial Hospital in Havre de Grace with second and third degree burns.

State Police said Day had been using an acetylene torch and placed it on top of the drum, setting off the blast.

Expressway Funds Set Up

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Roads Commission has approved projects calling for spending more than 20 million dollars of federal funds on the Jones Falls Expressway.

The SRC okayed the list yesterday as submitted by the city's Department of Public Works. It covers work to be placed under contract before July 1, 1958.

Included in the latest projects to get approval are several interchanges or bridges with price tags of 3 to 5 million dollars.

The projected expressway will be a broad thoroughfare to expedite traffic to and from the downtown area and the burgeoning suburban areas to the north.

West Virginia Farm Crops Said In Excellent Condition

CHARLESTON (AP)—West Virginia farm crops were reported in excellent condition with yield prospects favorable for both the grain and fruit crops.

The Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said that for the week ending last Friday, pasture and hay fields were in good to excellent condition in West Virginia.

Alfalfa fields were about ready for the first cutting and orchard grass fields were starting to head.

Corn planting has progressed rapidly with about 40 per cent of the acreage planted. The seeding of spring oats was about completed and plants were emerging in early fields. Winter wheat and barley fields were in good condition with most of the crop in the jointing stage.

State Suspends Permit Of Beer Distributor

CHARLESTON (AP) — Beer Commissioner Roy D. Platt suspended the licenses of one distributor and one retailer and revoked the permit of another retailer after hearings before him yesterday.

Quinto and Dominic DeProspero, trading as the Mona Supply Co., at Morgantown, had their distributor's license suspended for 15 days beginning at midnight Saturday.

They were charged with violation of statutes which prohibit a distributor from having any direct or indirect interest in the business of a beer retailer. They were charged also with the violation of another provision under which distributors are prohibited to make platform deliveries to persons other than those known to be licensed retailers.

The other two orders affected Kanawha County retail establishments. Revoked on charges of possession and sale of liquor and selling beer to noticeably intoxicated persons was the license of Wanda Slack, doing business as the White Star at Dry Branch.

The license of Icie Perry, trading as Icie's Place at Hansford, was suspended from last midnight to July 1 on charges of permitting disorderly conduct.

COME SEE...YOU'LL SAVE AT A&P

PLANS COMEBACK—Alice White, a star of early talkies who usually portrayed a jazz-struck blonde or madcap heiress, sits in her home in Hollywood discussing her plans for a return to films. Now 49, with her once-familiar milk-white bob now red, she thinks movie and television audiences are ready for more of the type of comedy that made her a well-known contemporary of Jean Harlow and Clara Bow. (AP Photofax)

Alice White, Blinded, Works On Comeback

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Alice White, blonde star of the flaming age in the movies, is making a comeback after a period of blindness.

A year ago her sight was gone. She had been trimming the garden of her home near the heart of Hollywood. A ladder tipped. She was hurled to the ground. Her shears gashed her left eye horribly.

"The other eye lost its sight out of a sympathetic reaction," she recalled. "For six months I could do nothing but lie flat on my back. The slightest movement or excitement would upset my eyes. All I could do was listen to the radio and TV. Friends would read to me. Fortunately, I had a loyal bunch of friends who took care of me."

"It was pretty tough to be knocked out like that after leading such an active life. But I came through it somehow. And I think I learned a lot from it. My life isn't so frantic any more."

But she wants to get her career active again. Still pretty at 49, she shows none of the effects of her accident. Her eyes are back to normal, and she still has the bounce that made her a star in the early talkies.

Alice White, Clara Bow, Joan Crawford and Jean Harlow typified the emancipated female in movies of the 20s and early 30s. With her familiar milk-white bob, Miss White often played the jazz-struck doll, the gangsters' sweetheart or the madcap heiress.

Her kind of film faded from popular favor and her career went into a decline. Once wed to producer Sy Bartlett, she married writer John Roberts and followed him as he traveled during wartime service.

"I went domestic with a vengeance," she laughed. "I even went to school to learn how to cook. But I don't think it was such a good idea. I think men, recent women who are too domestic."

Divorced again, she resumed her acting career. Her last performance being a small role in Joan Crawford's "Flamingo Road" in 1948. Now red-haired ("I think a woman looks kinda silly as a blonde when she gets to be my age"), she is seeking roles in movies or TV. And she's realistic about taking whatever comes along.

"I never look back," she said. "What's past is past. I never even saved a clipping when I was a star."

Phone Rate Hearing Set

CHARLESTON (AP) — Hearing will be held by the Public Service Commission next Wednesday on a rate increase application by the Tygart Valley Telephone Co., which serves 535 subscribers at Mill Creek, Randolph County, and vicinity.

The company's application said the increases were sought to comply with requirements for a $286,000 loan from the Rural Electrification Administration to finance conversion to dial service.

Proposed monthly rates for residential service would be $5.50 for a one-party line and $1.25 for four-party or multi-party rural service.

Delmarva May Have Educational TV

SALISBURY (AP)—After a close look at the uses of television in education, educators from the central Delmarva peninsula say they are in favor of trying out the new technique in their area.

They saw a demonstration of educational television yesterday over WBOC-TV, Salisbury's commercial station. Taking part in the special telecast were instructors from Washington County, which has used closed circuit television in its public schools for the past two years.

The experimental program, consisting of two hours of art, music and science lessons, was the result of several months of study by school superintendents representing 22 school districts.

They came from Caroline, Dorchester, Wicomico, Worcester and Somerset counties in Maryland, Suffolk County, Delaware, and Accomac County, Virginia.

Dr. Paul Cooper, chairman of the Superintendents Executive Committee on the project, and Dr. Kenneth Madden of the Seaford, Del., school district, headed the experiment.

They suggested that the school officials seek clearance for the closed circuit programs in their districts by June 30.

Cooper and Madden estimated the cost of the project would be $35,000 annually, or $1 per pupil, with 35,000 of the 50,000 public school pupils in the area coming under the program at first.

Station WBOC-TV has offered its services and necessary personnel for $1 to $3 daily for at least three years.

William Brish, Washington County superintendent of schools, told the group educational TV in his county has provided about two-thirds of some 18,000 public school students with at least one subject a day.

He said the program usually consists of a half hour of class via the television circuit, with classroom teachers taking over the remainder of the period.

The entire school system in the county will come under the program next September.

More Speakers Than Audience

EDWIGHT, W.Va. (AP)—The victory address at Elliott High School's commencement here Monday will be delivered by Patricia Ann Clark, Michael Lewis will be the salutatorian.

They will address the remainder of the graduating class in the school — which consists of one other student. A Negro school in this Raleigh County community, Elliott will become an integrated junior high school next fall.

4-H Speaking Contest Held

Allegany and Garrett counties in district competition in the annual 4-H public speaking contest held in the Grantsville Woodmen of the World Hall Wednesday night.

Marlene Clark of Pleasant Grove, the Allegany County winner, was triumphant in the girls' contest, defeating Susan Bowman of McHenry. Then, in the boys' competition, Ralph Buckel Jr. of Blittinger, Garrett County, was adjudged the winner over Richard Heavner of Union Grove.

Judges were Mrs. James McHenry, Oakland, and Clauson Smoot of Reisterstown in Baltimore County, who temporarily is residing in Cumberland.

State finals are scheduled for August 5 at College Park, when the six district winners will compete for top honors.

Between 5,000 and 7,000 different items are stocked by modern supermarkets.

Dear Abby - - -

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You sure got my goat when you told the mother of a lazy teen-aged daughter to just close the door when her daughter kept it looking like a pigpen. I had trouble like that with my teen-aged daughter, but I blistered her back porch so she couldn't sit down for a week, and after that she kept her room spic and span. I say, "Spare the rod and raise a delinquent."

HER MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: We are not rich, but we are respectable people. Our son went to school in Maine and fell in love with a girl up there. We didn't know her folks and they didn't even send us an invitation to our own son's wedding, so naturally we didn't go. We go to Maine every year on vacation but so far we haven't called her people. It has been ten years and we have four grand children, but we are not going to make the first move because we were told that it was THEIR place to invite us to the wedding. Please advise us as life is getting too short. GROWING OLD

DEAR GROWING: If you WAITED for an invitation to your own son's wedding and then didn't go because you didn't get it, you certainly don't deserve much sympathy. For goodness sakes, let bygones be bygones and call her people.

DEAR ABBY: One evening my husband walks in with his father and tells me that his father is moving in with us. I said, "Oh, no, he isn't!" So my husband packs and moves out with his Dad. Do you think this was a put-up job so my husband would have a good excuse to leave, or was I to blame? IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: This is the first time I've ever heard of a husband and his father in a package deal. Take Papa — or live alone and like it!

DEAR ABBY: I have a next-door neighbor who sits in her window and knows everything that goes on in our house. Every time we have company she tells me who was there and what time they left. She tells me every day what time my husband leaves for work and when he gets home at night. This bothers me very much. I don't want to get on the outs with her but I wish I could put a stop to it. Have you any suggestions? LOUISE

DEAR LOUISE: There is nothing you can do to stop your neighbor.

W. Va. Makes Allocation Of U. S. Hospital Funds

CHARLESTON (AP)—Allocations of federal money for hospital construction tentatively made by the State Board of Health under the Hill-Burton Act include:

Ohio Valley General Hospital at Wheeling, $750,000 for a 103-bed addition to the nurses' residence and training school.

Union Protestant Hospital at Clarksburg, $519,000 toward construction of a new 107-bed hospital.

Camden-Clark Memorial Hospital in Parkersburg, $391,000 toward construction of a four-story addition with 62 general hospital beds and a new x-ray department.

West Virginia University Medical Center at Morgantown, further aid on construction, $500,000.

The allocations for the fiscal year to begin July 1 were tentative because the board departed from past practice and made them in advance of actual appropriation of the federal funds by Congress.

The prospective grants are on a 50-50 basis, with like amounts to be raised locally. In the WVU project, the state will be required to provide the matching money.

The allocations are contingent upon a congressional appropriation of not less than 120 million dollars, which would mean an allocation of $2,113,000 for West Virginia. An additional $47,000 would be carried over from the current fiscal year to make the new total available $2,160,000.

The board had before it at a meeting yesterday six applications, not counting that from WVU, from hospitals which have met qualifications; have matching money

City Council Posts Sought By 12 Persons

Marple, Hornbrook Latest Candidates; Another May File

The list of candidates for City Council reached 12 today and a 13th took out papers and indicated he would file before the deadline at midnight tonight.

Filing today were Lee Marple, North Centre Street businessman; and Charles B. Hornbrook, Wilkesboro Road, photographer for the Times and Allegany Company. Hornbrook will be making his second venture in city politics and said he had no immediate statement on his candidacy.

Harry E. Shobe, 702 Holland Street, who operates Shobe's Service Station on Virginia Avenue, obtained papers from City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery this morning and indicated he would file for council later in the day. Shobe has never sought city office before but was a candidate for Republican State Central Committee in Tuesday's state-county election.

Open Until Midnight

Prevalent today was a rumor that Mrs. Lucile Roeder, the first woman elected to city office and who served two terms in council before she was defeated for Mayor in 1952, would again be a candidate for council. However, Mrs. Roeder was not available for comment.

Meanwhile, City Clerk Ullery said his office in the basement of City Hall will be open until midnight to receive last-minute filers for council.

Two have filed for mayor. They are the incumbent Roy W. Eves who is seeking his third consecutive term; and J. Edwin Keach, 905 Louisiana Avenue, manager of a Virginia Avenue drug store.

As of noon today, the council candidates looked like this: Finance Commissioner John J. Long, 518 Ridgewood Avenue, eight years in council seeking his fourth term.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, 310 Cumberland Street, 10 years in council seeking his fourth term.

Commissioner of Streets and Public Property, William H. Buchholz, 713 Fayette Street, eight years in council, seeking his fourth term.

Makes Fourth Try

Cecil C. Clark, 148 North Mechanic Street, making his fourth try for city office. He is president of Local 489, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union.

Melvin G. Cline Sr., 1121 Ella Avenue, making his first try for city office. He operates Cline's Sports Center at his home address.

Philmore F. Fleming, 516 Sheridan Place, making his first political bid. He is local manager for Maryland Hospital Service, Inc.

Hornbrook, making his second political venture.

Lennie J. Jackson, 531 Patterson Avenue, making his first try for city office. He is a foreman in the final finishing department of Kelly Springfield Tire Company.

Ran For Mayor

Marple, who ran for Mayor in 1954 and has twice sought unsuccessfully the nomination for Allegany County Commissioner.

Harold K. Ritter, 821 Williams Street, B&O Railroad employee and co-owner with his wife of Ritter's Grill on Baltimore Avenue. He is making his first try for city office.

Keith T. Sisk, 306 Bedford Street, supervisor of photography at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, who is making his second attempt for council.

Regardless of the outcome of the municipal elections, a new face among the governing body is assured. Mrs. Josephine Edwards who was named to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, Water Commissioner William J. Edwards, will not be a candidate for re-election.

CHARLESTON (AP) — Testimony on behalf of the Inter-Community League of West Virginia in protest against a rate increase sought by Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. was scheduled before the Public Service Commission today.

In testimony yesterday, PSC consultant James Honaker of Frankfort, Ky., said he felt a fair rate of return on the company's investment would be between 6 and 6.2 per cent, instead of the 6.75 per cent the utility wants.

Rate analyst James Matthews of the PSC staff expressed the view that a 6.25 per cent rate of return would be proper. He said the company thus should receive a rate boost sufficient to bring in $359,000 more a year.

Cumberland and Allegheny is seeking PSC approval of higher charges designed to bring in an additional $665,000 annually from about 17,000 customers in northeastern West Virginia.

Scheduled to testify on behalf of the protesting group today was Harold J. Snyder of Keyser, a consulting engineer.

LEE MARPLE

Lee Marple Candidate In Council Race

Lee Marple, North Centre Street businessman, filed today as a candidate for City Council subject to the June 3 municipal primary and said his campaign is based upon a "positive approach to city affairs — what we can do rather than what we cannot do."

Marple of 232 North Centre Street, operates Marple's Jewelry Store, TV Sales and appliance store and a motel. He was an unsuccessful candidate for county commissioner in Tuesday's state-county primary.

In 1954, Marple sought nomination as county commissioner as an independent but ran on the Republican ticket this year. He had also attempted to win the nomination as Cumberland's mayor in 1954.

At Crossroads

Marple said it is his sincere belief that the city "has reached the crossroads." And, he added, voters face the challenge of selecting "proper" candidates to guide city affairs the next four years, candidates with the best experience and background.

As a businessman, Marple stated he has exhibited faith in the city and the future by foregoing plans to locate elsewhere after his service in World War II.

Since that time he has twice expanded his business, constructed a nearby motel facility and a parking lot for the benefit of his customers.

"We must look to the future and think positively," he said, "and must disregard the attitudes of the past."

Marple opposes an increase in taxes but urged that the city consider means of additional revenue without thought of political implication, as a method of reducing taxes.

Too many people, he said, are moving outside the city limits because they get nothing in return for their tax dollar.

Two major sources of revenue, he continued, could be Constitution Park and the Wills Creek Mechanic Street area.

Installation of amusement facilities at the park and purchase of additional land to house them are part of the revenue plan.

"Capping" Of Creek

Marple envisions the Mechanic Street area as a "huge shopping center" and the flood walls which contain Wills Creek covered or "capped" with a platform which would be suitable for parking. By placing the parking area over Wills Creek, revenue would pay for the project in 10 years, no property would be removed from the tax books and federal aid would, in all probability, be available. The city could then rezone the area, and make Mechanic Street a shopping center its entire length.

"From my 23 years as a businessman in the City of Cumberland, I can say that we have not made enough improvements to meet the rising competition from neighboring towns. Unless we reverse this trend, we will lose business and the loss also will be shared by the property owner."

Marple stated recent parking lot developments are a step in the right direction but that the downtown traffic situation still is congested. The Cumberland Thruway will not aid downtown traffic, he asserted, since it is primarily for through traffic.

"I have consistently urged that

D'Alesandro Gets National DemoBacking

Friendly Gestures Made By Supporters Of George Mahoney

BALTIMORE (AP) — National Democrats, hoping to widen their narrow margin of control in the U. S. Senate, were ready today to come to the aid of Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro during his campaign for the seat held by Republican Sen. J. Glenn Beall.

D'Alesandro defeated six other candidates for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Tuesday's primary. He will face Beall in the November general election.

The mayor received offers of support yesterday from Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler and Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.). Butler promised in a telegram to "do all in our power to help you" win the election.

Smathers, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Committee, wired the mayor that "we will be pleased to make available to you any support we can provide — anxious to help."

These messages implied both monetary assistance and national prominence campaign speakers, and indicated they plan to make Maryland a battleground for Beall's Senate seat.

D'Alesandro and his running mate on the victorious harmony slate also received congratulations and offers of support from many State party leaders — some of them backers of losing candidates for the Senate.

Michael J. Birmingham, whose Baltimore County organization supported the mayor's chief opponent, George P. Mahoney, sent his congratulations. The same friendly gesture was made by State Sen. Louis N. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel), whose organization scored a clean sweep of county offices and helped give Mahoney a majority of the county's votes.

These and other friendly messages from State and former rivals prompted the mayor and J. Millard Tawes, candidate for governor, to predict greater Democratic unity in November.

Approximately 600 Boy Scouts of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will attend the council camporee today through Sunday at Reynolds Gap on Route 220 north of Moorefield.

Fred Anderson, Keyser, vice president of Tri-Valley District, is camporee director. Registration started this afternoon with David G. Nuzum, Tri-Valley District chairman, in charge.

There will be rehearsal at troop campfires tonight for tomorrow night's campfire. Tomorrow morning will be program time and will also be utilized for preparation of the camp site.

Inspection for point ratings will be held tomorrow afternoon with Paul Cornwell of Cumberland in charge. George McDowell will be in charge of the campfire program tomorrow night.

Sunday morning after church services and the noon meal there will be another camp site inspection. Closing ceremony at 2 p. m. will have Anderson presenting awards.

Exam Proposed For Roads Job

J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, suggested to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today that in view of his retirement effective July 31, the Civil Service Board should be asked to conduct a promotional examination for a successor.

Chapman has been roads supervisor for about seven years. Prior to that he was purchasing agent for the department and for a brief period was a Circuit Court bailiff.

The commissioners also received a letter today that a temporary appointment as night watchman at Sylvan Retreat was not approved. The board suggested that someone be named from a list of eligibles who took the examination for janitor several months ago.

Three Men Hurt In Road Crash

Three persons were injured last night when two automobiles collided on U. S. Route 40 about four miles east of Cumberland.

Taken to Sacred Heart Hospital were George Simmons, Route 2, Flintstone, with chest pains; and William Earl Lawler, Bedford Road, who had possible rib fractures, a broken hand, lacerations and possible chest and hip injuries. Joseph Thomas Collins, Brooklyn, N.Y., sustained lacerations of the face and was admitted to Memorial Hospital. All were reported in good condition today.

Trooper Willis Foreman, Maryland State Police, said the accident occurred about 9:15 p. m. when a station wagon operated by Lawyer apparently crossed the middle of the highway and collided head-on with the car driven by Simmons.

Woman Hurt In Fall

Mrs. Olive Neal, 85, of Cincinnati, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital last night for X-rays and observation of hip injuries suffered when she fell while leaving the dinner program of the B&O Veterans Association at St. Mary's Hall.

Man's Weight Lightens Fine

A Grindstone, Pa., truck driver was fined $374.20 on an overweight charge at a hearing this morning before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

Court attaches pointed out that despite the heavy fine, the driver could have been assessed nearly $23 more if his weight would have been included in the total amount of the overweight charge.

The driver, 382-pound Raymond Twardesky, was stopped by a State Roads Commission weighing crew while hauling powdered stone to a construction site on Martins Mountain. Twardesky disclosed papers showing he was hauling within the legal weight allowed, but when he drove his loaded vehicle onto the scales at the City Warehouse the overload registered 9,970 pounds.

A fine of two cents is assessed for the first 5,000 pounds of overweight, with six cents being charged for all weight in excess of that figure. Thus, when Twardesky was allowed to deduct his weight from the fine total, he was saved $22.02.

Twardesky was using his own vehicle to haul the powdered stone for the Frye Quarry, court attaches said.

Roadway Said Not In System

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, told the Board of Allegany County Commissioners today he has checked a complaint over the condition of Pringle Road in the Corriganville area and said the roadway is not in the county system.

Roy Strong appeared before the board to ask that repairs be made to Brashers Road. He said that shale would eliminate the ruts on the roadway. An elderly man resides on the road and he is in ill health, Strong said. In case of an emergency an ambulance could not negotiate the road, he added. The matter was referred to Chapman.

County Offers Property To City For Recreation

The old reservoir located on the county farm property will be turned over to the City of Cumberland for use as a recreation area.

Commissioner William A. Wilson made a motion today at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for the program. Commissioner James Orr seconded the motion. Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson was not present at today's session.

Commissioner Orr said he will attend next Monday's meeting of the Mayor and City Council and formally offer the city the use of the reservoir and adjacent grounds.

It had been planned to destroy the reservoir after numerous complaints were received by the commissioners over vandalism at the location. It was also a hazard to youths who used the reservoir as a swimming place.

Council Lists Girl Scout's Camping Plan

Site At Flintstone Ready Since April; New Training Set

Booklets describing the Cumberland Council Girl Scout camping program, have been distributed to the 64 troops under its jurisdiction. They contain information on troop camping, day camping and established camping, with application forms for the latter two types of camping.

Tomorrow will be registration day for established camp. Camp committee members will be at the Girl Scout House on Green Street between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. to take registrations. No places will be reserved at camp without applications and registration fees.

This will be the second year of camping at the council's new camp near Flintstone. The camp has been in use for troop camping since early April. Several weekends have already been reserved for this fall.

Training Scheduled

This summer, one unit in camp during the second twelve-day period will be devoted to training for senior scouts who are interested in qualifying for the National Girl Scout Roundup, and for girls interested in the first year of the Counselor-in-Training program.

Because of the large number of intermediate scouts in the council no unit will be reserved for Brownie scouts. The youngest campers at the established camp will be those flying from Brownie troops who will be entering the fifth grade in school in the fall.

There will be Brownie program units at both of the day camps, as well as units for intermediate scouts and an opportunity for senior scouts to assist as program aides.

Day Camps Planned

The Cumberland Day Camp will be held at Constitution Park, June 16-20 and June 23-27. Registrations will be accepted for one or two weeks, and the form which is in the camp folder should be sent to the Girl Scout House by May 28.

The Frostburg Day Camp will be held at the Community Pool there from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. July 21-25. Registration forms which are included in the camp folder should be given to the troop leader by June 10.

Credits the girls earned through selling Girl Scout cookies may be applied to the registration fee for Day Camp or the board fee at the established camp.

The program in both day camps will include campcraft skills, outdoor cooking, nature exploring, music, crafts and swimming.

Color guard will consist of Pam Fisher, Evelyn Kootz and Carol Sue Robinson. Mrs. Richard Johnson will present the dressmaker badges and Mrs. Rod Hocking, the clothing badges; Mrs. Kenneth Stone, conservation badges, and Mrs. Foy Curry, sports badges.

Mrs. Joseph Coulehan taught the course required for the home nurses and personal health badges. Mrs. Miles Thompson Jr. showed the girls how to model.

Pamela Angle and Dorothy Long will play piano solos. Refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. Donald Long.

Pollution Relief Sought

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today received a letter from Mrs. Joseph Robertson, Barton, in which she stated that residents on Laurel Run seek relief from the pollution of the stream from sulphur water emanating from a strip mine operation.

She said the people on the stream use the water during summer months for washing and other home uses and the sulphur in the water prevents its use.

In addition to the use by residents for domestic purposes, the stream is also a trout stream for women and children and is stocked by the State Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Commissioner William A. Wilson said the strip mining laws provide that the land be replaced in its former condition after the strip mining is completed. He suggested that the matter be referred to Frank Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

The matter of the pollution of the trout stream will also be brought to the attention of regional Game Warden Joseph A. Minke.

Three Of Family Injured May 9 Still In Hospital

The 10-year-old daughter of a local family who was injured in a two-car accident on May 9 in Pennsylvania, is still unconscious in a hospital at Norristown.

Elaine Hudson, daughter of W. Lester Hudson, 39, and Maxine Hudson, 36, of 133 Pennsylvania Avenue, suffered a fractured skull and was in shock when admitted to the hospital.

The girl's parents also were hurt in the accident and are still patients at Montgomery Hospital in Norristown. Another Hudson child, James Lester, also was hurt but he has been released from the hospital and is staying with relatives here.

The father, a foreman of the cable splicing section of the C&P Telephone Company, sustained a fractured wrist and ribs and lacerations of the face. His wife, a registered nurse, sustained a severe head injury.

The Hudsons were enroute to Fenwood, N. J., when their car and an auto occupied by an elderly couple collided. Both cars caught on fire after the crash and were destroyed.

Equipment Bids Opened

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today opened bids from five firms on a grader and crawler tractor loader.

The bids were from the McClung-Logan Company, Rish Equipment Company, Beckwith Machinery Company, Morgan Brothers, and Equipment and Supplies Company.

The bids were turned over to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, and Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board for tabulation and report back to the board. The commissioners will act on the bids next Friday.

Surplus Food Application Filed

The application of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for surplus federal foods for distribution to needy in this county has been turned over to the U.S. Department of Agriculture for approval.

William J. Brugger, supervisor of the donable foods program for the Maryland Bureau of Budget and Procurement, wrote the commissioners that the plan as submitted to his department deviated somewhat from the regulation forms sent here.

The plan submitted by the board is practically the same as used several years ago when the county distributed surplus food. Brugger also included copies of the agreement for the program. If the USDA approves the program, These must be signed and returned to his office, Brugger said.

It is hoped to start the food distribution in the near future.

Weather Bureau Issues Frost Warning For Area

The Baltimore office of the Weather Bureau today issued a warning that there is a chance of some frost in the "normally cooler areas" of Allegany, Washington and Frederick counties by morning.

The mass of cold air from Canada began to arrive in this section this morning and clearing skies and a lower humidity followed.

The forecast for the three counties calls for it to be fair and cooler tonight with the low running between 38 and 45 degrees.

Henry Miller Jr., of Consolidated Orchards, which has vast holdings in the eastern part of Allegany County and nearby Morgan and Hampshire County, said apples are in their most critical stage as far as cold or frost is concerned. They are in the stage just after bloom where the fruit is setting up, and can sustain only a short period of freezing weather.

With the present forecast of a 38-degree low, he said orchardists are not too worried, but anything in the low thirties would cause concern.

Most of the orchards are located on the tops of mountains and are not hurt as bad as those in the valleys where frost hits frequently in May.

The latest date for a killing frost in this section was May 17, 1956, Miller pointed out.

The forecast for tomorrow is dry and cooler with a high of between 67 and 73. Sunday is to be fair and warmer.

Change Urged On Insurance

BALTIMORE (AP) — A doctor at Johns Hopkins Hospital has suggested that the Blue Cross system tighten up on some of its policies.

Dr. Russell H. Morgan, chief radiologist at Hopkins, suggested at a hearing yesterday that the system cut out unnecessary hospitalization of patients. At the same time he called for more medical care coverage, particularly to shift patients applying for radiological treatment to the Blue Shield plan.

Blue Cross operates a hospitalization program, while Blue Shield covers surgical expenses. The State Insurance Commission is holding hearings on Blue Cross system's request for a rate hike of about 22 per cent.

Action On Parkway Possible In June

Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today that he had received their letter recommending support for H. R. 1145, which provides for a C&O Canal Parkway.

Rep. Hyde said the bill will come up in committee during the latter part of June. He said Rep. Gracie Pfost, chairman of the committee, told him the matter had been scheduled for this month but had to be delayed until next month.

It sometimes gets so cold in Alberta, Canada, that a man working in the open air avoids running for fear of frosting his lungs by inhaling too heavily.

Changes Made At Post Office

A number of improvements are being made at the Cumberland Post Office.

Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon Sr. said yesterday the project is expected to be completed within the next two or three weeks.

A catwalk and lookout, which will include seven openings, are being constructed in the hallway of the second floor adjoining the mail room formerly occupied by the Federal Court Room.

The second floor mail room has been in operation for about three years, he said, since the space on the first floor became inadequate.

The Post Office Department requires the use of a lookout by inspectors in order to detect any one suspected of stealing mail from a post office.

When the local building was built provisions were made for a lookout on the first floor. The construction of the stairway will erase the need for postal personnel to use the passenger elevator which is now being used to transport mail to the second floor mail room.

A 30-degree angle conveyor is being placed between the two floors to carry the mail back and forth to the second floor where it is sorted.

The catwalk and lookout are being constructed with concrete block and will be finished off with marble and plaster to match the hallway.

Postmaster Conlon said the Kennedy Electrical Company of Washington, D.C. was awarded the contract and has sub-contracted work to the Monitor Construction Company of Alpha, near Washington.

wide sidewalks on narrow streets be reduced in width to provide easier traffic flow and more metered parking spaces. This, I believe, could be done at little cost to the taxpayer."

Favors Recreation

Then he said he favors recreation and sports but both must be enlarged in scope to serve the needs of both young and old. There must be more entertainment on a year-around basis and he proposed that the city continue to explore the possibility of obtaining a civic center where all types of cultural and recreational events could be staged.

"This is the time for looking ahead, creating more interest on the part of the citizen not only in government but in the city as well."

"I feel business men are needed, men with faith, vision and modern ideas. We cannot sit still and grow. We must act. That is why my conscience would not let me 'set out' the next four years without seeking a seat in council where, I feel, I can use my experience in business to the benefit of each and every resident of Cumberland."

"I have no political affiliation with any candidate, believe in creation of more jobs and better working conditions and am constantly on the look out for new industry," Marple said.

Marple is a member of Centre Street Methodist Church, the American Legion and Optimist Club.

He is married to the former Helen G. White and they have a son, Ronald Lee Marple, who goes to Allegany High School next year.

Smith cited two reasons for his appeal. The first was that the parking violation charged against him occurred because the car was out of gasoline and he had to park it along the road. The second reason was that the commissioner of motor vehicles felt wide sidewalks on narrow streets be reduced in width to provide easier traffic flow and more metered parking spaces. This, I believe, could be done at little cost to the taxpayer."

Favors Recreation

Then he said he favors recreation and sports but both must be enlarged in scope to serve the needs of both young and old. There must be more entertainment on a year-around basis and he proposed that the city continue to explore the possibility of obtaining a civic center where all types of cultural and recreational events could be staged.

"This is the time for looking ahead, creating more interest on the part of the citizen not only in government but in the city as well."

"I feel business men are needed, men with faith, vision and modern ideas. We cannot sit still and grow. We must act. That is why my conscience would not let me 'set out' the next four years without seeking a seat in council where, I feel, I can use my experience in business to the benefit of each and every resident of Cumberland."

"I have no political affiliation with any candidate, believe in creation of more jobs and better working conditions and am constantly on the look out for new industry," Marple said.

Marple is a member of Centre Street Methodist Church, the American Legion and Optimist Club.

He is married to the former Helen G. White and they have a son, Ronald Lee Marple, who goes to Allegany High School next year.

Green Mountain Archers
Map Grand Opening Shoot

KEYSER—Archery enthusiasts, both beginners and members of clubs, will be welcomed at the "Grand Opening Shoot," sponsored by the Green Mountain Archers Club Sunday.

The newly-completed range, the result of much work by local archers, will test the skill of all participants. None of the Green Mountain Archery Club members have had time to practice due to heavy work loads during the past few weeks, so they will not have an "edge" in scoring over visitors.

The range is located six miles from Keyser on Route 46 near the "Stop-In" Restaurant. To reach the new range, enthusiasts are instructed to proceed on the road in the rear of the "Stop-In" for a quarter mile stretch to the top of the hill.

Registration for the "shoot" will be at 1 p. m. Sunday. Spectators are welcome.

During June, invitations for the Green Mountain Archers' annual tournament will be sent to archers from the local area and to far distant points. Past tournaments have enticed West Virginia champions as well as two national champions.

The Keyser Recreation Board will again sponsor a fishing clinic at the municipal swimming pool this year. The clinic will be in two sessions, one at 4 p. m. and the other at 7 p. m. Monday. The pool will not be officially open for swimming on that date due to school still being in session.

Both clinic sessions will be supervised by Conservation Officer Claude E. Rice who is rated high in the art of fly fishing.

St. Patrick's Cemetery
Enlarged At Mt. Savage

MT. SAVAGE—St. Patrick's, Lashley, Gene Lowery, Karl Wat-Catholic Cemetery has been enlarged by approximately two acres. The land was donated to the church last fall by James I. Robison, operator of the Glen-Savage Dairy. The new addition is located in the rear of the cemetery and extends the entire width of it.

Work on the new section was started late in the fall when 25 large trees, 50 to 60 years old, were cut down with the use of power saws. The stumps of the trees were removed several weeks ago with the aid of a bulldozer. The land was then cleared and graded.

A similar donation of a parcel of land for the expansion of the cemetery was made a number of years ago by Lawrence Henckel, who then owned and operated the Glen-Savage Dairy.

The original cemetery, which was small, occupies the site where the first Catholic Church in Mt. Savage was built and where the first mass was celebrated in 1792 by Rev. Theodore Boden, a French priest. The location, at that time, was known as Arnold's Settlement.

Rev. Michael S. Smyth, pastor, requests that all lots in the cemetery be given attention before Decoration Day. It is also requested that the practice of dumping dead flowers, stones, jars and other refuse within the cemetery be discontinued.

From Tonight
The annual junior prom of Mt. Savage High School will be held today from 8 to 11:30 p. m. in the school.

The lobby will be converted into a fairland castle for the occasion with spring flowers and pastel colors used for decorations. "Teen-age Queen" has been chosen by the juniors as the theme for the prom. Music will be furnished by the Aristocrats, a five-piece combo with a vocalist from Lonacoring.

Thomas Carter, president of the class of 1959, is general chairman. The senior class will be guests and the faculty will act as chaperons.

Miss Karen Carr is chairman of the decorating committee. Assisting her are Richard Aldridge, Connie Bucy, Neil Jenkins, Kay

St. Patrick's Cemetery
Enlarged At Mt. Savage

MT. SAVAGE—St. Patrick's, Lashley, Gene Lowery, Karl Wat-Catholic Cemetery has been enlarged by approximately two acres. The land was donated to the church last fall by James I. Robison, operator of the Glen-Savage Dairy. The new addition is located in the rear of the cemetery and extends the entire width of it.

Work on the new section was started late in the fall when 25 large trees, 50 to 60 years old, were cut down with the use of power saws. The stumps of the trees were removed several weeks ago with the aid of a bulldozer. The land was then cleared and graded.

A similar donation of a parcel of land for the expansion of the cemetery was made a number of years ago by Lawrence Henckel, who then owned and operated the Glen-Savage Dairy.

The original cemetery, which was small, occupies the site where the first Catholic Church in Mt. Savage was built and where the first mass was celebrated in 1792 by Rev. Theodore Boden, a French priest. The location, at that time, was known as Arnold's Settlement.

Rev. Michael S. Smyth, pastor, requests that all lots in the cemetery be given attention before Decoration Day. It is also requested that the practice of dumping dead flowers, stones, jars and other refuse within the cemetery be discontinued.

From Tonight
The annual junior prom of Mt. Savage High School will be held today from 8 to 11:30 p. m. in the school.

The lobby will be converted into a fairland castle for the occasion with spring flowers and pastel colors used for decorations. "Teen-age Queen" has been chosen by the juniors as the theme for the prom. Music will be furnished by the Aristocrats, a five-piece combo with a vocalist from Lonacoring.

Thomas Carter, president of the class of 1959, is general chairman. The senior class will be guests and the faculty will act as chaperons.

Miss Karen Carr is chairman of the decorating committee. Assisting her are Richard Aldridge, Connie Bucy, Neil Jenkins, Kay

Candidates Favor Plant

WESTERNPORT—Ray L. Wilk, candidate for mayor of Westernport, yesterday issued a statement in behalf of himself and his four running mates for council in which he emphasized that he is in favor of the town's participation in the waste treatment plant to be erected by the Upper Potomac River Commission.

Piedmont and Luke also will join in the plant to alleviate the sewage disposal problems for the Tri-Towns.

"Certainly either plan offered is more advantageous to us than erecting our own disposal plant," Wilk emphasized. "Whether or not we join in this plan will be decided at the election May 27 when the citizens will have an opportunity to express themselves. I should also like to make it clear that I have no quarrel with the idea of a referendum. When enough people begin thinking about how their town is being run and how best to spend their tax dollars, then and only then will we have a more constructive government."

Wilk stressed that in his five terms as commissioner he has striven for economical and efficient city government.

The mayorality candidate said he favors a program calling for the repaving of certain streets each year until all have been resurfaced. He also observed that town officials have been endeavoring to have all open ditches within the corporate limits sewered and he pledged to continue to work toward that end.

Wilk also noted that a new water main from Main Street directly to the corner of Howard and Philips Avenue will more than double the supply of water to the Greene's Addition section.

The four candidates running for commissioner with Wilk are Joseph L. Herbert, present commissioner of police and fire; Alvin K. Pence, ending his second term as commissioner of water; Harry M. Richards, who served as commissioner from 1950 until 1956, and Dr. Neil Williams, a newcomer to town politics.

15 Witnesses To Testify In Assault Case

KEYSER — The special session of the grand jury summoned for Monday in Mineral County Circuit Court will hear at least 15 witnesses, possibly the largest number ever called to testify on a single case. Special Prosecutor Vernon E. Rankin said.

The case involves the dragging of a Piedmont man along the street in Piedmont; by six area persons in an automobile. The six were indicted at the regular session of the grand jury for assault and battery, a misdemeanor. At that time Prosecuting Attorney Donald C. Holt asked to be excused from the prosecution of the case.

Judge Ernest A. See relieved Holt and appointed Rankin as special prosecutor. Since that time Rankin said he has conducted an extensive investigation into all phases of the defendants' activities during the night of the dragging.

He reported his findings to Judge See who ordered the grand jury recalled for Monday to hear what new evidence may have been uncovered by Rankin and possibly re-indict the six, ranging in age from 19 to 22.

Wilt Will Face No Opposition
WESTERNPORT — Only one candidate for mayor and five for commissioner will be listed on the ballot for Tuesday's town election as a result of the town attorney's ruling.

Horace P. Whitworth Sr. ruled that Horace Richards had filed too late to run for mayor in the May 27 election. He informed council that the charter states that candidates must file at least five days before the election. Courts have ruled that the date of filing, the election day and Sunday do not count in figuring the five days.

At a meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners, it was voted to return the $10 filing fee to Richards' sponsor.

Ray L. Will will be unopposed for mayor. The five candidates for the four commissioner posts are J. Leo Herbert, Lorenzo C. Lambert, Alvin R. Pence, Harry M. Richards and Dr. R. Neil Williams.

Veterans of Foreign Wars kept its unbeaten string intact in the Rocking Chair Softball League yesterday when it piled up a 6-0 lead in the first two innings, then coasted to a 10-1 conquest of the Moose yesterday at Celanese Field.

The other two games were close, the BPO Elks nosing out Pittsburgh Plate Glass, 5-4, at Naval Reserve Field and the Ritter A. C. shading Knights of Columbus, 3-1, at Fort Hill.

Holds Cases To Two Hits
Carl "Shorty" Long held the Cases to two hits—singles by Gene Scaletta and Bob McGreevy—as the Ritters scored two straight victories for the first time since they entered the league last season.

Three of the game's four runs were unearned, the only untied tally being the winners' third which came in the sixth as a result of Fred Comer's triple and Miles' sacrifice fly. Leo Rhodes and Comer each had two hits for Ritters.

The outstanding defensive play of the game was turned in by George Geatz, Casey shortstop, who made a diving stab of Marshall Barbe's scorching low line drive in the second. Miles, Ritter second baseman, and Jack Steiner, Casey left fielder, also made nice running catches of fly balls.

Klavuhn Sparkles
Dick Klavuhn pitched and batted the Elks to victory. He had three of his team's seven hits. Norm Curtis and Bud Law had two hits each for PPG and Bill Thompson starred afield.

Ted Durbin sparked the attack with a triple, double and single while Phil Reuschel collected two hits and played an outstanding game at short, handling eight chances without a slip. "Butch" Johnston's catch of a foul to left was one of the fielding highlights. Bob Mattingly obtained two of the losers' five safeties.

Southern Trims Elk Garden, 7-6, In PVC Finale

Getting five runs in the last three innings, Southern High finished its season in the Potomac Valley Conference with a 7-6 victory over Elk Garden yesterday on the Stags' diamond.

The triumph was the seventh in 12 starts for the Highlanders and fifth in nine loop clashes while the Elks wound up with a 3-7 PVC showing.

Elk Garden knocked Jerry Wine out of the box in the second inning and Donald Dewitt, relief hurler, limited the West Virginians to one hit in 5½ frames, struck out 10 and received credit for the win. Charley Paugh, Elk Garden's starting pitcher, who gave way to Jerold Milavec in the fifth stanza, took the loss.

Danny Milavec of Elk Garden and Terry Colaw, Ken Shaffer and Dewitt collected two hits each.

Fort Hill Seen As Big Threat In State Meet

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — A fast, dry track is predicted for the state high school track and field meet tomorrow, with 41 schools lined up for the starter's gun.

Northwestern High of Hyattsville, defending Class A champion, again expects its major competition to come from Bethesda-Chevy Chase and Fort Hill of Cumberland.

Last year, Northwestern barely beat out its suburban Washington neighbors by the slim margin of 62½ to 60.

Fort Hill, victorious in four of five meets to date, has won six previous state tests, the last being in 1954. Last spring the thin-clad coach Bill Hahn were ninth as Northwestern took its first title, Montgomery Blair of Silver Spring finished first in 1955-56 while Towson was on top in 1952 and Hagerstown in 1948.

Twenty-Two In Class 'A'
Twenty other high schools are entered in the Class A field.

Aberdeen, Class B defending champs, had a near runaway last year, winning over North Carroll, 107½ to 60½. Seven others are entered in the class.

Centerville faces nine other schools in defense of its Class C crown. Last year it scored 90 points to 76 5-6 for its closest rival, Washington High of Princess Anne, Somerset County.

No Baltimore City schools are entered since they compete among themselves in their own tourney. However, five from the suburban Baltimore area are represented.

'A' Schools Listed
Competing in Class A are: Bel Air, Bethesda-Chevy Chase, Bladensburg, Catonsville, Dundalk, Fort Hill of Cumberland, Frederick, High Point of Beltsville, Kenwood of Baltimore County, Millford Mill of Baltimore County, Montgomery Blair of Silver Spring, North Hagerstown, Northwestern of Hyattsville, Northwood of Silver Spring, Parkville of Baltimore County, Richard Montgomery of Rockville, South Hagerstown, Suitland, Towson, Walter Johnson of Rockville, Westminster and Wheaton.

Class B: Aberdeen, Arundel of Gambrills, Damascus, Easton, Edgewood, Elkton, Havre de Grace, Hereford and North Carroll of Greenmount.

Class C: Caroline of Denton, Centerville, Greensboro, Luckey of Indian Head, Mardela of Mardela Springs, Mt. Airy, Rising Sun, South Dorchester of Golden Hill, Walkersville, and Washington of Princess Anne.

Bryan About Due In '500'
INDIANAPOLIS — Almost half the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race field remains to be filled in final qualifications Saturday and Sunday.

Cliff Bergere, Indianapolis Motor Speedway mileage champion, figures the winner can come from either end of the ultimate 33-car lineup.

Bergere, who survived 16 Memorial Day races and 6,545½ miles of competitive driving on the big track, looked over the entries today on his annual return as a spectator and opined:

"Jimmy Bryan is about due to win, especially since he has Sam Hanks' 1957 winning car."

Then he hurriedly added, as a loyal Miami resident:

"So is Jim Rathmann."

Bryan, the National Big Car champion from Phoenix, qualified the horizontal engine Belond Special last weekend at 144.185 miles an hour for a good starting spot in the third row.

Rathmann, whose brother Dick set a qualifying record of 145.974 for the No. 1 starting spot, is driving the car owned by fellow Miami Lindsey Hopkins in which Jim finished a close second to Hanks last year. It has been cranked this year and Jim didn't qualify last weekend.

Jim also was a late qualifier last year. He started next-to-last in the field but was leading at 275 miles at a record speed of 136.242 miles an hour. Hanks was back in front at 350 miles and held off the younger Rathmann the rest of the way for the $103,844 top prize.

Final trials, to pick 14 more starters from the 38 remaining cars, will run from 11 a.m. (central daylight time) to 6 p.m. Saturday and noon to 6 Sunday.

Krutko was taken by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the second round, and Nicely went to the Baltimore Colts in the third round. . . . West Virginia did not send any players to the College All-Star game last year but was represented by four players in 1956 and one in each of the preceding two years.

More Yelling Needed, Says Chisox 'Veep'

CHICAGO — It's going to take extra effort on the part of the players to get the Chicago White Sox headed upward in the American League, Club Vice President Chuck Comiskey admits.

"I'm not going to mention names, but except for seven or eight holler guys out of 25, I think a little more effort is needed," said Comiskey. "I still think we are a better balanced club than we were last year when we finished second. I still like the trades we made and I think we've strengthened ourselves even if we did have to part with a fellow like Minnie Minoso."

"I don't expect cheering sections like in college, but I do expect a little more liveliness—and this is true of the guys on the bench. Let them do a little more yelling."

After watching the Sox drop two games to New York, Comiskey said he has known all along that we can't match Yankees in power, but we can win by every other means. We've got speed, defense and the best pitching staff in the league.

"Take a look at the statistics. New York barely tops us in homers, triples and doubles. But we've got 30 or so more bases on balls. We've been on base that much more, but we've been in last place."

"We've got the ability, but we're not using it. All year we've had too many mistakes by fellows who shouldn't be making them. We've known we would be in a lot of low scoring games. With a little more effort we would not have lost so many of them."

Little Sentinels Cop County Meet, Cresaptown Runnerup

Making a sweep in the four relays and taking three other firsts, Fort Hill High won its 10th Allegany County Junior High track and field meet in 12 tries yesterday at the stadium.

The Little Sentinels compiled 75½ points to 63½ for runnerup Cresaptown while Beall was third with 30½, followed by Allegany with 20 7/12, Carver with 5½ and Mt. Savage with four tallies.

Cresaptown took five first places and tied for another with Beall getting a first in the 95-pound broad jump for the other victory in the 14 events.

The Sentinels collected 40 of their points by winning the 95-pound and 115-pound relays and also the 440 yard and 880 yard relays in the senior unlimited class.

It marked the 10th time in 12 tries that Fort Hill had emerged the winner of the junior high meet since 1946. The Sentinels did not participate in the 1951 event.

Phil Brown, of Cresaptown, was the only winner of two events. He copped the 100-yard dash and the high jump in the junior unlimited class.

Japan Liberal Party Scores

TOKYO — (INS) — Jubilant Premier Nobusuke Kishi made plans today to form a powerful "play-ball-with-America" government following a resounding nearly two-to-one victory over left-wingers in Japan's general elections.

Leaders of the prime minister's Liberal-Democratic Party said Kishi, riding on his first direct mandate from the people, would establish his new cabinet about June 10.

The dynamic 61-year-old statesman led his party to triumph on a foreign policy platform that

Bank Robbers Face Life Imprisonment

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two men picked out of a police lineup on the basis of build, hair and voice were convicted of a $17,000 bank robbery but escaped the death penalty when the jury failed to recommend it.

Three witnesses swore the two were at home the night of the robbery.

The two face a maximum of life imprisonment.

Tyrus F. Jones, 28, and Robert promised "continued cooperation" with Washington and sustained non-recognition of Red China.

W. Princeler, 27, were identified by a bank teller and his wife as the masked men who invaded their home last January 26th and forced the teller to open the night depository of a bank near Washington.

A Federal Court jury convicted Jones and Princeler yesterday on all five counts against them but did not recommend the death penalty possible under one charge.

Sentencing of the two was postponed pending a motion for a new trial.

Clarence E. Cranford, of Silver Spring, testified that Jones forced him to go with him to the Marlowe Heights Branch of the First National Bank of Southern Maryland while Princeler stayed at the teller's home and held his wife and baby as hostages until the robbery was completed.

Jones, of Capitol Heights, and Princeler, of Mount Rainier, were convicted of robbery, entering a bank to commit robbery, carrying away the money, putting Cranford's life in jeopardy and with forcing the teller to participate in a robbery. The last count was punishable by death if the jury had recommended it.

Princeler's common law wife had testified he was in their apartment watching television the night of the robbery.

Jones' mother, Mrs. Nell C. Jones, and a brother, Carl, testified Jones was at home at 10:15 p.m.—15 minutes before Cranford said the two entered his home.

The mother and brother also said Jones was at home again at 11 p.m., about 15 minutes after the robbery. They said he was napping between those times.

There was testimony, however, that it would have been physically possible for Jones to leave his home immediately after 10:15, drive 6 miles to Cranford's home, then a mile to the bank and get back home by 11 p.m.

In court, Cranford said he thought Jones and Princeler were the two men. Mrs. Cranford was more definite in the identification she made of the two in the courtroom.

Sheriff Asks Vote Recount

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Harry S. Lancaster, seeking Democratic nomination for the St. Marys County sheriff's office, has asked a recount of Tuesday's vote which had him the loser by 12 votes.

After yesterday's official canvass, the incumbent, Sheriff Robert Miedziński, was still ahead of Lancaster by 11 votes, 1,884 to 1,873 so Lancaster asked for a recount.

The victor in the final outcome will face Willard B. Long, a former sheriff, who won the Republican nomination.

SPACE CHESSES — Arthur Elliott, a Hollywood artist now living in Rome, has updated the ancient game of chess. In Elliott's set, the pawns artistically suggest ground-to-air defense rockets, the bishops intercontinental missiles, the knights space satellites, the queen a space ship, and the king a space station. Elliott says his designs may make chess devotees of children who can grasp the fundamentals of the game more easily in terms of space concepts.

Former Area Resident Shot In Coast Bar

George C. Teeter, 24, Woman Killed By Irate Husband

George C. Teeter, 24, former resident of near Flintstone, was one of two persons killed Sunday in a Los Angeles bar shooting.

He was slain by an irate husband who also killed his estranged wife, Los Angeles police said.

Officers said Elroy E. Pena, 37, walked into the bar shortly before closing and pleaded with his estranged wife, Joan, 36, to return home with him. She was sitting with Teeter and refused to leave with her husband, according to police.

"Can't you see she doesn't want you any more?" Teeter asked. "Why don't you get the hell out of here?"

The police said Pena and Teeter stepped outside the tavern to settle the argument, and patrons at the tavern heard a shot.

Then Pena charged back into the bar and shot his wife in the face, police said.

Pena slumped on the bar and buried his face in his arms. "She was running around a lot and I just couldn't take it any more," he told police.

Police also said Pena and Teeter were understood to be very good friends, the Associated Press reported.

Pena has been booked on suspicion of murder, police said. Teeter had been living in Texas since his discharge from the Army in 1956. He left Texas several weeks ago for California, where he was looking for employment.

A native of the Flintstone area, he was a son of the late Samuel C. Teeter and is survived by his step-mother, Mrs. Alice Teeter, this city. Also surviving are two half-brothers, William Ginovertski, with the Army at Fort Eustis, Va., and Dorsey Jones, Mineola, N. Y.

Services were conducted in Los Angeles, and burial will be in National Cemetery there.

Hospital In Market For Additional Skills

BOSTON (AP) — Boston City Hospital is in the market for skulls—animal skulls of any type. This came to light when the mayor received a request from hospital officials for $2,500 to pay for the craniums.

Officials did not specify where they would get the skulls, which would be used to teach anatomy to student nurses and other hospital personnel.
